CANYON NEWS BIRTHDAY

Founded in Canyon

Beginning Sixty-First Year
This Week

This edition of The Canyon News marks the beginning of the 61st year of publication in Canyon.

In observance of this edition is decked out in dress that went out of style long years ago in most newspapers. The original reason for long, solid columns of type with now pictures was the method of printing and presswork of yesterday.

More modern presses allow varied sizes of type with headlines and pictures that stretch more than one column, and most newspapers now use a more modern style of makeup.

The Canyon News was founded on April 15, 1896, as The Stayer. The founder, Mrs. R. W. Morgan, kept the newspaper until 1902, then sold it to George A. Brandon. Not satisfied with the original name, Brandon changed the masthead to read "The Canyon City News."

C. O. Keiser bought the paper from Brandon in 1908 and hired E. A. Terrill as editor. In 1909, Terrill changed the name to "Randall County News."

L. B. Christman took over from Terrill as editor and ran the paper for Keiser until Aug. 1, 1910, when Clyde W. Warwick took over as editor.

In 1911, Warwick purchased a one-fourth interest in the newspaper, and in 1914 a corporation was formed with Keiser selling an additional fourth interest to Mrs. Keiser, Oscar Hunt and J. W. Reid.

Warwick continued to operate the paper until in October, 1920, he purchased the outstanding stock and became sole owner of the "Randall County News."

By 1925, Warwick decided to change the name again and the masthead read the same as it does now.

Warwick continued as sole owner until 1947 when one-third interest was purchased by Arthur C. Haley Jr., present publisher. A one-sixth interest was sold to Charles Hillier in 1951.

On Aug. 1, 1955, Warwick sold his remaining interest in The Canyon News to Haley and retired after 45 years.

Mrs. Morgan started her newspaper in a tent on the south side of the square. It remained under canvas until Brandon moved it in 1902 to a building just west of the Palace Hotel.

Keiser moved the paper's plant back to the south side of the square, to a sheet iron building. In 1911, he built a brick building as a more permanent home, and the paper moved to just behind the present Post Office.

In 1925, Warwick built the present home.

Up until 1915, when the first linotype was installed, the newspaper was printed entirely with handset type, a slow, tedious process. In those days, a good typesetter could set about the same amount of type in a day that the linotype sets in an hour or so.

The first linotype was replaced by a larger machine in 1920 and a second linotype was installed in 1929.

Through 60 years, The Canyon News and its predecessors have recorded the ups and downs of Canyon and Randall County. In the files of the paper are success stories, stories of defeats and delightful glimpses into the everyday affairs of the citizens of the community.

LaGrone Joins Firm Here

New Partner With Bernard
Warren in Funeral Chapel

Jerry LaGrone, former chief embalmer for N. S. Griggs and Sons in Amarillo, has purchased an interest in the Warren Funeral Chapel here and the new firm will be known as Warren-LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

"I've known and worked with Jerry for the past four years and I know what kind of a man he is. I am pleased he saw fit to come down and be in business with us," Bernard Warren, present owner, said.

"With both partners working and living here, none of the profits of the business will be leaving town," he said. Prior to the first of the year, the funeral home was a partnership between Warren and N. S. Griggs and Sons in Amarillo.

LaGrone is a licensed funeral director and embalmer, having graduated from the Dallas Institute of Mortuary Science. He has been with the Amarillo firm for the past 4½ years.

Prior to his association with N. S. Griggs and Sons, LaGrone was with the funeral home in Clarendon for eight years.

He and his wife, the former Gladys Emmons, WT graduate, are natives of Clarendon. They have a 13-month-old daughter, Nancy. The family is living at 1509 Ninth Avenue.

"We think that we will be able to give better service to the community by both Bernard and I living here," LaGrone said.

50 Area Choirs Here

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Knighton left Wednesday for a two weeks visit in San Angelo and Austin. They will return home by Ranger to visit their son, Bill, and his family.

BLACK DUSTER SUNDAY

Worst in Twenty Years

Crop, Field Damage
Not Heavy

Most Blowing in Sandy Land
To South

With Rain Soon, May Have Some Good Wheat

Roaring down from the north, the worst dust storm in possibly 20 years enveloped the Panhandle Sunday afternoon and caused some slight damage in Canyon and Randall County.

The duster swirled into Canyon about 5:30 p. m., and within a few minutes visibility was zero and stayed that low for more than four hours. The wind carrying the dust blew steadily at velocities up to 55 miles an hour with gusts to 73 miles an hour.

Although many expected the high winds and choking dust to start fields in the area blowing and for their remaining wheat to be killed, County Agent John Brazzil said the damage was surprisingly low. He said the blowing fields were mainly those which blew in earlier dust storms with the addition of an occasional corner or fence row.

Brazzil inspected the farming areas of the county early Monday morning. "It's easy to see those places that blew, but there aren't as many as you might expect," he said.

Reporting on the storm, Brazzil wrote:

"The black duster of April 8 may or may not have been our worst in 20 years. At least when visibility drops to zero and remains there for several hours it is plenty bad."

"This was one of those that could be seen coming before it arrived. During the height of the blow it appeared as if the whole country had taken wing and was moving. On examination of crop lands, winter wheat and pastures the next day, our damage was not as great as it may have appeared."

"The greatest damage to land and crops appear to be in that area along the rolling sandy lands south of Canyon. This strip of sandy lands extends from the Buffalo Lake area eastward toward Palo Duro Park and is three to four miles wide."

"Even in this area most of the land and crops were undamaged. Evidence of the high winds can be found in many other sections of the county where old lake beds and isolated areas shifted across the road. A few fields of wheat were blown out, but these places were surprisingly few in number."

"Generally farmers have done a marvelous job holding their land against wind erosion damage after the extended period of drought. The last effective moisture from rainfall was in September, 1955. The snow of early February has been our only effective moisture in 1956."

"Modern, fast-moving power equipment and leaving land covered with crop residues or even weeds enable farmers to hold land that would have blown out 20 years ago."

"The duster may have been the worst in 20 years, but with some April showers and May rains we can still cut some good wheat."

The high winds blew down an electric wire running from the main water storage tank downtown to the pump station at the west end, but water service was not impaired while the wire was being repaired. A city employee operated the pump station manually.

The Canyon Volunteer Fire Department kept a feedstock fire at Charles Wilkinson's east of Canyon under control during the storm Sunday. The alarm was turned in around 4 p. m. and two pumpers made the call.

Both pumpers used all the water they had, then both went to the Nance Ranch to refill the tanks. Upon returning to the Wilkinson's, about one mile east, the storm had hit and the fire was raging again, having jumped to the barn.

The firemen extinguished the barn fire, and one pumper stayed at the scene while the other made trips for more water. The firemen returned to town about 7 p. m.

Mrs. Robert O'Donald flew to New York Saturday and then boarded a plane for Frankfurt, Germany, Sunday to join her husband, Lt. Robert O'Donald, who has been overseas since January.

Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Walsh Jr. have moved from Lorenzo to Levelland.

Neblett Leads Team

Dumas Team Wins
District

Three New Records Set
By Schoolboys

Canyon High School trackster Charles Neblett led the Canyon team to second place in the District 1-A track meet in Buffalo Stadium Saturday.

Neblett's 19½ points gave him the highest individual score of the entire meet, which included teams from both Districts 1-A and 1-AA.

Three new records were set for 1-A despite high winds and a fourth record was broken by Canyon's Harley Adams, but was nullified because officials of the meet had staggered the runners wrong.

The Canyon team led the first-place Dumas team by one-third of a point until the last event of the day, the mile relay, which was won by the Dumas squad, which set a new record for the event.

Canyon's first place winners were Neblett, tied for first with Melvin Cunningham of Canyon and Robert Henderson of Dumas in the High Jump with a jump of 57; Cunningham, tied with J. Dean of Dumas in the Pole Vault with a vault of 10'6; Neblett with a time of 15.7 for 120-Yard High Hurdles; Neblett with a time of 20.8 for the 180-Yard Low Hurdles; and Adams with a time of 2:03.7 for the 880-Yard Run.

New records set in the meet included 22 feet in the broad jump over the old record of 20'11; 44.7 seconds in the 440-yard relay over the old record of 44.9; 3:35.3 in the mile relay over the old record of 3:37.5.

The District 1-A teams and tracksters were consistently better performers than those in District 1-AA, having better times or distances in nine of the 14 events.

The first three winners in each of the events are qualified to enter the regional meet in Lubbock April 21.

Taylor's Object To Award

File Notice of Appeal
With Clerk

Awarded $60,200 by Special
Commissioners

An objection to an award of $60,206.35 to Taylor and Sons Country Store for expressway right of way was filed Tuesday afternoon in the county clerk's office by C. G. Clayton, attorney for the Taylors.

The award was announced last Wednesday by the special condemnation commissioners B. R. Jones of Amarillo, Walter Graham and Newton Crain. They made the award after hearing 6½ days of testimony by witnesses for the county and for Taylor and Sons.

In the objection filed Tuesday, the Taylors gave notice of appeal of the award to the county court. Judge Roy Joe Stevens said it might be some time before the attorneys for the county and for the Taylors might agree upon a date for the new trial, however he said he did not know when it might be set.

The paper filed with the clerk listed two objections to the award. The first read:

"The sum so awarded . . . is wholly insufficient in that the value of the land and improvements to be taken is of itself of a reasonable value greatly in excess of the sum so awarded and the damage to the land and improvements not taken, as a result of such taking, is of a reasonable value greatly in excess of the sum so awarded."

The second objection read: "The Commissioners . . . did not take into consideration consequential damages suffered to the land and improvements of defendants not taken as a result of such taking, nor did they take into consideration any loss of profits or cost of restoration which will be sustained and incurred by defendants as the result of such taking in order to make use of the land of defendants not taken."

HOPPER CROP THREATENS

Big Hatch Seen
In May

New Remedies May Be Effective

County Not Eligible for Federal Funds

Grasshoppers may become a greater problem in Randall County this year than they have been in several years.

If the spring hatch of young hoppers develops, the problem may be much greater than last year. Surveys by federal and state entomologists show that all parts of the county could be seriously infested.

Last summer, more than 30,000 acres of range land, pastures, fence rows and road ditches were sprayed to protect grass, crops and garden. This year, even more land will need to be sprayed, County Agent John Brazzil said.

Early hatched hoppers are beginning to appear, he said. The big hatch is expected in May, and will be the chief concern of landowners in the county.

From last year's experience with control measures and from recommendations from federal and state sources, early spraying is found to be necessary if good results are to be obtained. To be really effective, entire neighborhoods should be sprayed at one time, Brazzil said.

At this time, Texas does not share in a control program as is practiced in some neighboring states. In those states, federal money is used to pay one third of the cost of spraying, the state pays one third and the farmer or rancher the remaining third.

Federal money is available in Texas, but according to regulations under which the program operates, Randall County is not expected to participate, Brazzil said.

Federal cost sharing can be obtained only on range lands. The money must be collected by the land owners and the land blocked up into 20,000 acre blocks before the federal program can operate. The program cannot be used on cropland areas.

Because the county has no vast areas of rangelands and because such large blocks are not available, control measures will have to be practiced by each land owner. There are several of the newer (Con't. on Back Page, Section 1)

Commissioners Thank Ladies
For Interest

Questions about the expenses and expenditures of the county were asked the Randall County Commissioners Monday by a delegation of four women who attended the regular meeting of the court.

The delegation, with Mrs. A. R. Northcutt as spokesman, said they wanted to ask questions about the county bills and read several of them from the March 21 edition of The Canyon News.

Mrs. Northcutt asked why so many repair parts and labor items were listed for Tom W. Carpenter Equipment Company, Inc., of Amarillo. She was told that there is no company in the county which supplies the parts needed for specialized road machinery.

Mrs. Northcutt asked why purchases were made from Magnolia Petroleum in Amarillo when there are dealers in the county. Commissioner Pat Baber said the bill she indicated was for a barrel of oil he obtained from Felix Pierce in Canyon and the billing was handled through the Amarillo office of the company.

The commissioners were asked why office equipment was purchased from General Office Supply when office supplies can be purchased in Canyon. Auditor E. T. Cummings said General employees live in the county.

Questions were also asked about purchases in Happy. Commissioner Glenn Dowlen said most of the purchases in Happy were by his precinct, and the major items were bought from men who have farms in the county and a minor item, a $2.52 chain, was purchased from Harmon Hardware to save a trip to Canyon that would cost more in time lost and gasoline expense. He said the machinery was near Happy when the chain was needed.

Mrs. Earl Reynolds, a member of the delegation, told the commissioners that they weren't at the meeting to criticize, but only for information.

"We want you to patronize the merchants of Randall County as much as you can," Mrs. Northcutt said.

Questioning about why the county pays the premiums for bonds for the officials, Mrs. Northcutt said she was once an official in Briscoe County and she provided her own bond there, as did the other county officials.

The question was referred to Commissioner Clarence Beckman who said the county was paying the premiums for most of the officials when he went into office 20 years ago.

Criminal Dist. Atty. A. W. Lair, who was at the meeting, read from the statutes that the premiums for the bonds are to be paid out of the county's general fund.

Mrs. Northcutt said the delegation wanted to talk about the 1957 budget. Cummings told her that one has been prepared but had not been adopted.

She asked if the budget would be higher next year and Cummings said it would be higher by about $85,000. Mrs. Northcutt asked if taxes would be raised to make up for the higher budget.

On the question of salaries for the commissioners, which has not been settled, Mrs. Northcutt said, "It looks to me like the taxes have been raised the last two years and you've raised the salaries the last two years."

Commenting on the publication of the bills, Mrs. Northcutt said, "We wish you'd put this in the paper every month or two months so we can

EDITORIAL

Views and Comments

In bragging about the attributes of "I Got a Woman," Elvis Presley says, "She knows a woman's place, right there, now, in the home."

I wonder how many of the females who idolize Presley will go along with that sentiment? I'll wager that it would be hard to find one who not only agrees, but also stays "right there, now, in the home."

In the past two weeks, a storm has moved in to cover the normally sun-bright skies. The clouds are blue with rhythm and are rocking and rolling as if they were tornadoic.

The streets resound with shouts of "Yea, Elvis Presley," and the airwaves carry denunciations of Bill Cherry and his editorial. Our uncle's mail brings further denunciations, most unsigned, and even brings signed agreements.

Rumors spread from mouth to mouth, telling of letters with 100 signatures, of other letters with signatures. But none show up.

A man who is in radio told me that Elvis Presley was once at his station and was so "snotty" that the radioman almost "popped him one."

Another man who dislikes Presley told me that when the blue rhythm first appeared in Amarillo at the Municipal Auditorium some time back, his first entrance on the stage was rather disgusting.

The story I heard was that Presley walked on, spat on the floor and said, "Well, I'm glad to be here in ... what is the name of this damn town anyway?"

That may not be true. I should think it wouldn't be, or at least it shouldn't be.

I was walking across the street last Wednesday after school and three school girls going down the sidewalk gave me looks designed to let me know what they thought. If it'll help any, I died eight or nine deaths right then from dagger wounds, girls.

On the radio Thursday night, on the 710 Teen DJ Club carried on KGNC, someone reported that a girl had asked her mother to run over me as they saw me crossing the street. I didn't hear the report myself, I was only told of it.

In one unsigned letter we received at the News, the writer, obviously a girl, said she had read the Canyon News ever since she had learned to read, and she doesn't "think I'll ever let my parents bring another into our home."

The shame about that is that in some homes, the daughter could probably pass out that edict and enforce it.

This proves, to me at least, that the less there is to be said about a thing, the more vociferous is the championing of it.

A music professor at West Texas State told me that the current run of rock and roll, pardon me, rhythm and blues, is nothing more than the "lowdown" blues of the 1920's done poorly. Even I can remember hearing the same sort of music back in the early 1940's, but we youngsters called it "Negro music" and the only place we could hear it was down in the "Flats," the Negro section of Slaton, where I lived at the time. I had a friend who liked to hear it, and I went along several times, but never did develop a taste for the music. But I can recognize that it was done in better style than that I hear today.

Brunell Harvey, the dominé of the 710 Teen DJ Club, tells me that the craze is dying out, slowly, albeit, but it is dying. He said the youngsters attending the weekly dance at the YMCA in Amarillo prefer slower and more musical numbers by about three or four to one.

I still maintain that the words chanted along with the rhythm are salacious. Secondhand, I've been told that teenagers don't listen to the words, only to the rhythm and they "feel" it. I believe the rhythm is also salacious, as well as monotonous.

I believe that the current run of popular "music" is a manifestation of delinquency. Those juveniles who are proven delinquents identify themselves with the "music" and with the performers of it. And, by the way, I don't believe that all teenagers are juveniles, nor that all juveniles are delinquents, in the popular usage of those words.

I believe that the dance done to the "music," called the "bop," is a salacious dance, even though proponents of the dance say there is a "clean" bop and a "dirty" bop. However, it must be admitted that any dance known to man can be vulgar if those performing it choose to make it so.

I'm ready, yea willing, to receive proof that I am wrong in my convictions.

But those who advocate rhythm and blues, or rock and roll as you prefer, have given me no proof of any sort. Their unsigned letters (which show me they do not have the courage of their convictions or that they are afraid their parents may find out) serve only to vilify my person, my mind and my habits. For instance, from the letter I quoted above, "All your implications came from your own vulgar, dirty evil, warped mind." (The word, I presume, is "warped.")

Another says, "I am sorry you have such vulgar ideals about such music." From the same letter, "I believe that one of the causes of juvenile delinquency is 'adults' (if some elderly, over 21, can be called such) trying to dissuade their (the juveniles) idols, and that is just what you are trying to do."

The writers of these letters have no idea of the use of words, nor of some of the rudiments of grammar, and that is as bad, to me, as their idolizing of the commonplace.

For instance, the name "Elvis Presley" is mentioned in three of the letters, and in two it is spelled wrong. That I call shameful.

Printed in this issue of The Canyon News are all of the signed letters I have received. I'm sorry that more of you who advocate Presley are ashamed of it, else your letters could have been here, too.

The paper has rules that all letters published must be signed, must not be libelous nor break any of the Postal regulations. I'll suspend the rule about libel insofar as it concerns me, but the other rules must stand.

This is the first issue of the 61st volume of The Canyon News. In celebration we have tried to make the front page look as nearly like the early day papers as possible. We do not have copies of the first paper, nor of any for the first few years. The files were destroyed in a fire some years ago. However, we've used issues from the early 1900's and modeled on other newspapers published in the late 1800's.

We hope you enjoyed the brief look at the past. Maybe some other year we can take another look.—BC

7:10 Teen Time KGNC

Gentlemen: Thank you for inviting me, along with others, to express my reaction to the editorial, by Bill Cherry, appearing in last week's edition of the Canyon News, which dealt rather harshly with some of our modern crooners, one in particular, and especially the songs they sing. Since I do not listen to any more of the "stuff" he is talking about, than is forced upon me by the juke boxes while I am drinking coffee, or otherwise obliged to remain in hearing distance of them, I am not aware of who sings what. However, I would like to shout my double AMEN to what he said about the so-called songs.

I am of the opinion that many of the type he mentioned are so sex polluted, so flagrantly sensual, so obscenely suggestive, that their lewd expressions should be quite sufficient to pink the ears of a brass monkey and cause a wooden Indian to blush with shame.

It is quite evident to me that their only purpose is to dull the sense of modesty, where modesty remains, arouse the animal passion of man, break down the bars of common decency, destroy the sacred relations between men and women and prepare our whole social structure for the mad dance of doom, formed and fashioned in moral degeneracy.

So, let me say: congratulations! Bill Cherry. I, for one, appreciate your attitude, and courage to express it.

Dear Editor: I always read the Round Table column in the Monday Amarillo News. This week the Amarillo News quoted your paper. In regard to lots of the stuff on TV, I think you are 100 per cent correct. Radio has some stuff detrimental to teenagers—but the stuff is heard only and the hoochy koochy movement of the so called singers is not seen. Write more on the subject.

Dear Editor: I always read your editorials with interest, and while I don't always agree 100 per cent I enjoy and appreciate your remarks.

I do however agree with your editorial in last week's paper (March 28). I intended to write you last week, my family all encouraging me to, when we talked it over. Since I didn't get it done and saw you had adverse criticism, as I was sure you would, I made a special effort to write you this week.

Incidentally, the phone just rang, and I told my friends who called that I was writing the editor. When I told her the nature of my business, she said, "Well, we certainly agree, too." Also my teenagers agree. So I hope this is encouraging to you. Keep up the good work.

NAME ON FILE.
WITHHELD BY REQUEST

Dear Editor:

I have been reading our Tulia paper, commonly known as the Tulia Headache because it has degenerated into a place for Baggarly to let off his steam about politics about which he knows nothing, and juvenile delinquency. But that is beside the point of my letter. I read your scandal sheet in which you ran Elvis Presley into the ground. You say that his songs are nothing but racket. I'd like to see you or anybody else take a steel guitar and make some of the so called racket such as is found in Presley's Mystere Train. Can you even begin to sing or chant in the Staccato manner that Presley does? Lets give credit where credit is due. He does have a talent that so far nobody else has shown and it has gone over big. Maybe you don't like rock and roll music. That is probably due to the fact that you are considerably older than most people who do like it. It is new, something different, and there are people who always resent anything that deviates from the usual run of the mill. I can understand why Presley might get on your nerves. He probably gets on lots of peoples nerves. He would get on mine if I listened to him too long. Besides if he gets on your nerves why do you even go to the trouble to listen to him. There are plenty of radio stations that play that long hair stuffy classical music. I am a teen-ager myself. I am eighteen years old, and I have seen the birth of the rock and roll music. It has caught on fast, just like jazz did a few years before my time. As far as the Seven Ten Teen DJ Club goes I think they have a good program of popular music. I had the opportunity to be on that program a few days ago and also got to meet Brunell Harvey who I term to be a very likeable fellow. Harvey is doing a good job with the teen-agers of the panhandle. He has young people on his programs who spin the records and talk about the popular music. I do not really care for most of the popular songs of today. I like Western and Country music. It was through this music however that I first came into contact with Presley's recordings and rock and roll music in general. Contrary to your beliefs this type of music does not in any way inculcate indecent feelings or ideas. When we hear a rock and roll recording the words are not even listened to. It is the rythm and beat of the song that makes it liked. It is good music to bop to. It is my feeling that a person who is down on juveniles and young people in general does not have the right to call them delinquents and scream so loudly about what they like. Ill grant you this that the problem of juvenile delinquency is growing greater and getting more serious all the time. But that does not mean that there are not still good and decent young people in the world. Teen agers resent the small time newspaper editors always and forever calling them delinquents. And I am aiming the preceding remark at one person in particular.

By writing this letter I am not trying to, and I hope I have not made an enemy. But I do not like to hear people always running the teen-agers in the ground. I can see your side of this controversy, but remember there is always the other side too.

Yours Truly,
Hugh Osborn

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The Public Debt

It is very strange how little has been said in the last few years about the size of the public debt. Only a few years ago, the public debt was the number one issue of the day.

At that time, it stood at between 265 and 270 billions of dollars, and the United States was carrying in cash deposits a daily balance of approximately 7 to 11 billion dollars.

Since that time, the public debt has continued to increase, while the average daily cash balance began to decrease. The result was that about three years ago the Administration asked the Congress to increase the debt ceiling from 275 billion to 290 billion dollars.

The Congress refused to do this, and it subsequently developed that such increase was not necessary. Had it been granted, the American taxpayer would have been charged an additional interest of between one-half to one million dollars a day.

The debt, however, did continue to increase and the Congress was again requested to increase the debt ceiling.

On April 28, 1954, the Congress did agree to increase the debt ceiling to 281 billion dollars on a temporary basis to June 30, 1955.

As that date approached, the Administration said that they could not reduce the debt below the ceiling, so the Congress again extended this temporary increase until June 30, 1956. I voted against both of these increases.

As we look at the public debt today, we find that on the first day of March, it was 280 billion dollars, plus.

Collection of income taxes during March has enabled this to be cut down to a present gross debt of 276 billion dollars. This will decrease some more due to tax collections, but will immediately shoot upward when the tax collecting period is over.

Cash deposits on the first of the month were less than 5 billion, but have increased by about 2 billion due to tax collections.

The point is that we are, conservatively speaking, about 15 billion dollars worse off financially today than we were only a few years ago. Yet, there is a campaign underway at the present time to require the taxpayers of this country to cough up another 5 billion dollars for foreign aid and to commit these same taxpayers to continue to cough up additional sums for a period of 10 years.

The Weather

Changing to a more pleasant subject, I want to point out that the weather in Washington is fast changing from winter to spring. If any of you have plans to come to Washington, please come in the spring.

It is my favorite season and certainly a beautiful one in Washington. The trees are beginning to bud, and soon the cherry blossoms will be in full bloom around the Tidal Basin.

The Capital City is getting ready for another Cherry Blossom Festival honoring cherry blossom princesses from all over the United States.

The spring season always brings a great number of tourists, including many groups of school children. I sincerely wish that every school child in the 18th District could have the opportunity of visiting Washington and seeing what the Capital City of this great country looks like.

I think it would be an excellent idea if all classes, including high school, started a saving fund that could be used during the year of their graduation for a class trip to Washington. Such a fund could properly be called a "Good Government Fund."

I feel that many civic organizations and businesses would be happy to contribute to such a wonderful cause. Why don't some of you folks in each of the communities try starting such a move.

It would be a good investment in the future, to say nothing of the pleasure these kids would get out of a cross-country bus trip.

How Times Have Changed
Our 17-year-old went off to participate in a track meet practice the other day. During the proceedings he developed a "charley horse" that rendered him somewhat hors de combat.

He retired to a friend's car to wait for conveyance home. In the mixup he forgot his street clothing and was dressed in athletic apparel.

His friend had to let him out about five blocks from home, from which point he had to proceed by foot.

His attire consisted of a sweat shirt and sweat pants—garments with which the older generation is obviously not thoroughly familiar—because Mrs. Rogers has had to explain to several groups that her son did not walk down the street in his winter underwear.

In fact, he doesn't even wear it—that is, the winter kind.

ADMIATION

"What did Father say when you asked him for my hand?"

"Oh," replied Augustus, "he did his best to be pleasant. He said there was something about me that he really admired."

"Did he say that?"

"Yes, my impudence."

VENUSIANS, MAYBE?—Could be. More plausibly, they're law-abiding young visitors from Venice—not Venus. The lads are riding a "flying saucer" car on a Ferris wheel set up near the famed Arch of Peace in Milan, Italy.

Farm Values Drop In Last of 1955

COLLEGE STATION—Farm real estate values in Texas dropped slightly during the latter part of 1955, according to a report just issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

During the four-month period from July 1 to November 1, farm real estate values increased from 2 to 4 per cent in 31 states and remained essentially unchanged in 16 states. In Texas the decrease was 1 per cent.

Compared with a year earlier, farm real estate values in the state were up 3 per cent as of Nov. 1. This compares with a nationwide rise of 5 per cent during the same period. Values last November averaged higher than a year earlier in all but two states,

Nevada and Utah.

Continued business prosperity and strong demand by farmers for additional land to enlarge their farms have helped to offset expected effects on land values of lower prices for farm commodities, according to the USDA report.

Many farmers and non-farmers continue to view farmland as a safe and desirable investment despite current lower returns. Present owners apparently share this view because the number of farms for sale continued at a low level.

HER IDEA

Teacher asked all the children to write down the name of their favorite hymn.

Everyone wrote except little Mary.

"Come on, Mary, write it down," coaxed teacher.

So little Mary blushing wrote: "Johnny Brown."

New Beef Grade Starts June 1

COLLEGE STATION—Effective June 1, 1956, the commercial grade of beef will be divided into two new grades designated as Standard and Commercial.

The Standard grade will be applied to beef from younger animals while the name Commercial will be retained by beef from mature animals falling in the present Commercial grade. The present grades of beef are Prime, Choice, Good, Commercial, Utility, Cutter and Canner.

According to the USDA announcement the revision was originally recommended by the Cattle and Beef Industry Committee. Comments from individuals and organizations favored the change.

It was the opinion of the committee that it is impractical to merchandise, under the same grade designation, beef from young animals which may qualify for the Commercial grade with only a small quantity of fat together with beef from much older animals which is required to have a much greater degree of fatness.

Also in some parts of the country where substantial portions of the younger type of Commercial beef are produced and consumed, it is believed that some of this type of beef is not now being federally graded because of prejudice against the name "Commercial" which has come to be associated with beef from older animals.

It was the committee's opinion the change in grades would lead to a greater proportion of the younger beef being federally graded and this would result in increasing the marketing efficiency for meat of this grade and be beneficial to both producer and consumer.

FOREVER TEXAS

A professor from the University of Texas was speaking at a large convention at which a large number of Oklahomans were present. When he generously mentioned the neighboring state as an "outlying province of Texas," a husky Oklahoma man leaped to his feet and shouted back, "Brother, there isn't any state that can outlie Texas."

The bridesmaids, Earleen Plank of Hereford and Alice Brotherton of Canyon, wore identical ballerina length dresses of yellow crystalline which were fashioned with fitted bodices with V-shaped necklines and princess styled skirts over yellow taffeta. They wore matching picture hats and carried bouquets of yellow majestic daisies.

The bride's fingertip veil of illusion lace fell from a heart-shaped lace and seed pearl form. A white orchid surrounded by carnations and stephanotis tied with love knots and white streamers formed the bouquet. She wore the traditional something old and new.

Mrs. Burrus, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue princess style dress of nylon cotton, studded with rhinestones about the neck. She also wore a navy blue duster and sky blue accessories.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Swaringen, wore a white and black sheath dress with a black linen duster and white accessories. Both mothers had cymbidium orchid corsages.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party was honored at a reception in the home of the bride's parents. The table was laid with a white and red, hand embroidered linen cloth from Japan and was centered with a four tiered wedding cake surmounted with a miniature bride and groom and decorated with the bride's chosen colors of yellow and green.

Mrs. B. A. Burrus presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Cecil Simms served the cake. Mrs. Swaringen is a graduate of Canyon High School and the bridegroom was graduated from Matador High School. Both are sophomores at West Texas State.

State Capitol NEWS

Battle lines are fast forming. The scrap for control of the Texas delegation to the Democratic national convention is a high-tension argument. Harmony is out. Now it's a no-holds-barred, toe-to-toe slugfest.

It started when House Speaker Sam Rayburn, leader of Texas' liberal-loyalist forces and Godfather of the Democratic Advisory Council, proposed that U. S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson be Texas' favorite son candidate for President of the United States . . . and head the Texas delegation to the nominating convention in Chicago.

George W. Sandlin, chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee, had proposed Gov. Allan Shivers as chairman.

Shivers charged that Byron Skelton, chairman of the DAC, had thought up the favorite son and chairman idea . . . and that Rayburn "is just his mouthpiece."

Shivers denounced Rayburn's proposal as a "cynical and calculated effort to divide the conservative democrats of Texas . . . an attempt to maneuver the senator into the DAC-PAC camp."

Then he challenged Johnson to denounce Liberal-Loyalist backing and take a stand for states' rights. Johnson's answer was that he would head only a middle-of-the-road delegation. Not one "from either fringe" — either ultra-conservative or ultra-liberal.

"No one knows better than Allan Shivers that I am not a creature of the ADA, DAC, PAC, NAACP, CIO or any other group he may have named," snapped Johnson. "Nor am I an errand boy of reactionary big business

HARVEST TIME—The pay's good while it lasts—about $1,000 an hour. Natives of Pampatar on the Venezuelan island of Margarita net a twice-yearly haul as schools of bonita make their migratory runs past the island. The average catch of about 6,000 fish takes three hours to bring in. Price received for each fish represents approximately 50 cents in American money.

or the Republican party."

Verbal blasts between Washington and Austin continued. Shivers accused Rayburn of "trying to run Texas from Washington." Rayburn termed Shivers "an angry, confused, frustrated man . . . on a sinking ship." Adding "I belong to no faction but the Democratic party."

Shivers replied that had he gotten in the boat with Rayburn and Adlai Stevenson in 1952, "we would have lost both the boat and the Tidelands!" He charged Rayburn with "being a Democrat first and an American second."

Shivers has declared he will not pledge himself to support "any nominee," and will hold himself free to vote for the man he considers best for President, regardless of party . . . "and I hope it is a Democrat."

Fencing between Johnson and Shivers was in milder tones, with Shivers concluding that he had no desire to battle with "my old friend, Lyndon Johnson." Without withdrawing his demand for Johnson to state his position on the issues, Shivers said "I would not stand in the way of Texas honoring him as chairman of the delegation or as favorite son."

Johnson has not said whether he would permit his name to be presented as a favorite son candidate, or whether he would take the chairmanship. He has said, however, that he hopes to be a delegate.

All of which means a show-down fight for control of the Democratic State Convention in Dallas, set for May 22. Liberals have promised a contest there . . . and if they lose they will attempt to bar the conservatives from the national convention. Rayburn will be temporary chairman of the national convention.

Interposition Approved
Complying with Governor Shivers' request, the Democratic State Executive committee has ordered on the July ballot a referendum on "interposition." This seeks a voters' mandate for the Texas Legislature to petition Congress for a constitutional amendment re-establishing and protecting states' rights.

It is an attack on U. S. Supreme Court decisions, such as the Tidelands, school segregation, federal control over natural gas, etc., which Texas conservatives have branded as an unauthorized invasion of states' rights.

Ineligible for Office?
C. T. Johnson, who testified five times under oath that he had spent "no more and no less" than $125 in traveling the length and breadth of Texas while campaigning for Lt. Governor in 1954, now admits spending $1200 more than he reported.

This exposure resulted from charges by Russell W. Bryant, Italy publisher, that Johnson could not have traveled an admitted 12,000 to 15,000 miles for $125 (or approximately 1c a mile.)

"There isn't a standard make automobile made that doesn't cost nearly 2c a mile for gas alone," said Bryant. "And Johnson testified under oath that the $125 included not only gas, oil, tires, batteries, etc., but also other necessary travel expenses as lodging and meals."

In admitting the $1200 additional expenditure Johnson stated that he did not report any expenses under $10. State laws require the reporting of all expenditures, and the names and addresses of persons with whom more than $10 is spent.

Falsification of a campaign expense report prohibits such candidate's name from appearing on the ballot at any succeeding election.

Yarborough After Grassroots Votes
A down-to-earth intensified campaign for governor now is under way by Austin Attorney Ralph W. Yarborough.

His first official move was a cross-roads plea for contributions and support "from the common people who believe in the Democratic form of Government."

Ads appeared last week in weekly newspapers throughout Texas soliciting one dollar or more from small-town contributors. It's a "Dollars for Democracy" appeal.

Short Snorts
Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd has called for the establishment of a Texas commission to define the boundaries in which the federal, state, county and city governments should operate.

Also advocated is a code of ethics for public officials — those at the local as well as the state level.

Injunction suits have been filed in Gainesville by the State Bar of Texas, to restrain four non-attorneys from engaging in alleged unauthorized practice of law.

Newspaperman Ed Kilman of the Houston Post is the newest member of the State Parks Board. Supreme Court Justice W. St. John Garwood, a long-time personal friend of Kilman's, administered the oath of office in a ceremony in the Governor's office Tuesday.

Applications from veterans for the purchase of land are being received by the Veterans' Land Board at the rate of 500 per month.

USDA Figures Prove Farm Value Of Beef Drops Faster Than Retail

COLLEGE STATION—During the last quarter of 1955, the farm value of choice grade beef was down an average of nine cents a pound, while the retail price dropped only 3.5 cents a pound.

A beef study by the U. S. Department of Agriculture shows that the difference between what the farmer receives for U. S. choice grade beef on the hoof and what the consumer pays for the meat has fluctuated widely during the seven years 1949-1955.

Retail prices remained relatively stable during the latter half of 1954 when farm cattle prices were rising, and during 1955 when farm prices generally declined. Marketing margins, therefore, narrowed substantially below the long-run average in the latter half of 1954.

In 1955, however, they widened markedly, exceeding the high levels of 1953. The comparisons are based on the price of a pound of beef at retail and the price of its equivalent weight of 2.16 pounds in the live animal.

Marketing margin is the difference in price received by the livestock producer and that paid by the consumer. During 1955, the spread between the farm marketing price and the retail marketing price was about five cents a retail pound more than at the start of the seven year period. In the last quarter of 1955, the margin was 27 per cent wider than in the same quarter of 1954.

A series of studies is now under way in the Department of Agriculture dealing with the cost of processing and distributing food. This particular report, Beef Marketing Margins and Costs, publication 710, analyzes the trend of prices and margins for U. S. choice grade beef at different stages in marketing process.

The report states that fluctuations in dollar margins come about because cattle and beef prices do not maintain a fixed relationship to one another at any point in the marketing channel.

Commissioners - Light Opposition In School Vote

interest of the delegation in the county government is healthy, and expressed the wish that more citizens would show interest.

Frank Wilkinson of Amarillo met with the commission to request participation in paving roads in Harvest Acres, a new development being promoted by Wilkinson in South Side Estates.

Commissioner Johnson told Wilkinson that a study would have to be made of his precinct funds already allocated before a decision could be reached.

"Until we see a little development out there, some people might think we would be a little out of order to participate in the paving," Johnson said. "Of course, if we had unlimited funds, I'd like to see every road in the district paved."

Other business conducted by the commissioners was routine.

The county agent's office has information on the latest recommended control measures which have been found by entomologists who worked for years on the problem.

The old-time remedy of using poison bran probably will not be used because newer methods are much more effective, Brazzil said.

Around the Town...

By DOVIE CHERRY

Hello, fellow dirt fighters. How is the dirt fighting crusade? A bit dirty say what?

Ah, yes, the dirtier of the plains dusties that breezed across the Panhandle Sunday wasn't rebuked the slightest by barred doors and windows but slid right in homes, offices and stores.

What's more it left reminders of its stay, layers of grayish brown mother earth, which in turn produced coughs, sneezes and sinus headaches and lots of application of elbow grease behind mops, brooms and dust rags.

But let us not be discouraged. If you planned a party for Monday night, forget your regrets.

What's so much dust between good friends anyway?

The saying goes that if you think you have it bad you can always find someone who has it worse.

It may have seemed bad sitting at home with dust sifting in but there was one fellow who, we bet, would have gladly changed places.

Along about dark Sunday, Thelma Fulton heard a noise in their front yard. Looking out the window she saw some poor soul trying to chase down, load a balking burro into a red pickup and fight the dirt all at the same time.

She didn't know who you were fellow but she felt for you.

There was one woman who wouldn't have been disgruntled by the dirt. She wasn't even dismayed by the most snarled snarls and the most wrinkled wrinkles of housekeeping in general. In fact she wrote a book about her method of fighting household problems and told housewives how to pin the worst enemy, dirt, under their dainty thumbs.

The woman's name is Mary Elizabeth Carter and the title of her book is Housekeeping Hints, Practical Book of Home Management. The publishing date is 1904.

I obtained the book from Mrs. Meredith Warren who obtained it from her mother who obtained it from a friend.

In the chapter devoted to cleaning and settling she insists that the "dainty" housewife begins fighting dirt before she moves in the house, when she moves in, after she moves in, and until death do part her diligent soul from the scourges of nasty dirt and filth.

The author advises the securing of cleaning women, quite a little trick to work right there; and then lists the articles needed to fight dirt.

Articles necessary are two step-ladders—one high, one of medium size—should be on hand when the work begins, also brooms, dustpans, long handle floor brushes, whisk brooms, a pointed hairbrush, such as painters use for corners, plenty of soft cloths, cheese-cloth dusters, strong sponges, soap sapolio, washing soda, household ammonia, chloride of lime, concentrated lye, pulverized borax, hammers (large and small), a screw-driver, tack lifter and gimlet.

She says, "There should be also three or four large squares of double unbleached muslin—the widest that comes—for coverings and to spread down when unpacking is to be done. A good manager has also plenty of calico sweeping covers ready to protect furniture unexpectedly exposed and in danger of damage. Besides these there should be a supply of strong heavy paper in rolls, soft tissue paper, and old newspapers galore. It is very important to study to avoid unnecessary labor."

When moving in she advises until settled that every entrance should have a mat outside and a piece of carpet inside the door with a legible sign telling people to use the doormats.

She says it is best to have a superintendent to guide the cleaning force. Their work should include going over all the walls and ceiling and over the floors several times with brooms, wet mops and floor finishers. When moving in all of this is imperative and a "dainty" housekeeper will keep her dwelling just this clean.

Mary Carter says that if at night all the housecleaning problems rob you of sleep that there is a simple remedy. All you do is place a notebook and a candle by your bed and when you are struck with a brilliant thought, light the candle, write the thought in the book and in no time at all your insomnia will be cured. Keeping an efficient notebook will also result in an efficient house management.

So you see. Very simple. No need to get discouraged by the dust. Just go out and hire a whole force of cleaners and you have it made.

Next week, Mary Carter's thoughts about the unpaid working housekeeper. (Guess who that is.)

Another local winner of Teletest, quiz program for housewives. Last Thursday, Mrs. Tom Langston of 1800 Eighth Ave. answered the jackpot question asked by moderator, Larry Filkins, and received a watch, a Robert Robot toy, and Longboy railroad extensions.

Mrs. Langston missed her first question, who is the author of Home Again, Home Again, America for Me, but was able to supply the answer of Edgar A. Guest to the next question.

She admits that she had a little help. Mrs. E. D. Harvey of 1704B Fourth Ave. drove over to the Langston's home and gave Mrs. Langston a little reminder which she was glad to receive, because she "didn't believe she would have thought of the answer by herself."

Like Virginia Raillard, another recent Teletest winner, Mrs. Langston was excited, quite surprised and believes that this is the first time she has ever won anything on a quiz program.

Mrs. Langston, mother of three sons, is attending Amarillo Center and is taking a course in teaching children to read which is instructed by Miss Ruth Lowes. When the youngest son is in school, Mrs. Langston hopes to resume teaching.

Brownie Troop 12 with leader, Mrs. A. T. Reese, was in The Canyon News Monday watching the process of making up the paper.

The bright eyed and curious group of young girls consisted of Ann Hardaway, Janis Mann, Shirley O'Donnel, Jody Ann Murphy, Kay Litchford, Nancy Petruccione, Susie Reese, Sharon Lisle and Janis Murphy.

Annual Aggie Muster Set at Canyon Club

Former students of Texas A&M college living in Canyon and the vicinity will observe their annual muster at 6:30 p. m. April 21 at the Canyon City Club.

At the muster here, names of former students in this vicinity who have died in the past year will be called. A comrade will answer for each name called.

All students who attended Texas A&M are invited. A list of known former students is being composed and invitations will be sent to those on the list. Should a former student be missed, he is asked to contact Don Olson, chairman of this year's muster, or John Brazzil.

College Runoff Slated Today

Student body president and six representatives to the Student Senate will be named in a run-off election here at West Texas State College Wednesday. Six class senators were elected in balloting last Friday.

In the run-off for president are Herman Betke of Borger and Carroll Hall of Amarillo. The two were forced into a run-off when they eliminated Jim Oswald of Plainview and Bill Carmichael of Hereford.

Senators already named are Ted Reddick of Phillips and Bob Hood of Borger for senior posts 2 and 4; Jeanette Faulkenberry of Seagraves, Rosemary McDonald of Lockney, and Bob Wilkinson of Canyon for junior posts 1, 2 and 4; and DeWayne Neel of Enochs for sophomore post 1.

Some 700 ballots are expected for the second election, when voting has always been heavy. For the past three years, the run-offs have polled heavier than the primary elections.

Senate run-off candidates include Ralph Green of Canyon and Dolores Rohan of Panhandle, for senior post 1; Gladys Parkey of Floydada and J. T. Hill of Canadian, for senior post 3; Jack Spray of Matador and Ray Coker of Amarillo, for junior post 3; Camal Dakil of Shamrock and Linda Lewis of Rule, for sophomore post 3; Kay Brown of Stinnett and Ann Moore of Canyon for sophomore post 2; and Jim Bowen of Dumas and Johnnie Davis of Pecos, for sophomore post 4.

Mrs. Harrell Writes Letter on Voyage

Mrs. E. D. Harrell, presently on a cruise to South America, sent the following letter to The Canyon News, telling of her experiences during the first part of the trip.

"The enclosed is our daily paper. One a few days ago reported a dust storm in the southwest. Well, if we had wind at sea I'd prefer a duster.

"We have had smooth sailing most of the time. Always a little rough when the Mississippi River empties into the Gulf. I just stayed in bed that day.

"Had a big day crossing the equator. King Neptune's Court trying the Poly Wogs. As I had been across and had my certificate, I did not have to stand trial. The court opens:

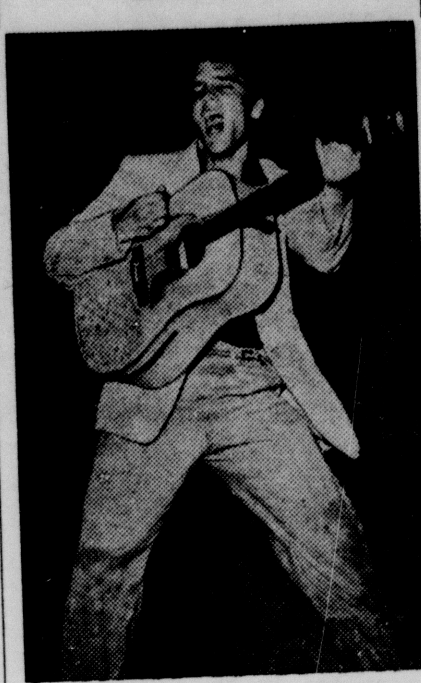

"Your Majesty. This court has been solemnly convened this afternoon to bring to Justice a group of Poly Wogs who have failed to recognize the Sovereignty of Your Exalted Person and who refused to bow to the Law and Customs of Your Aquatic Realm."

"It takes smart people to think up all this foolishness and there are some smart, clever people aboard.

"Our trip is being very nice. We will be seeing Rio de Janeiro the next two days.

"The final destination of this shellback is Canyon, Texas, U. S. A."
